AMOS L. ROLLINS,	} Selectmen of Alton.
ELLSWORTH H. ROLLINS,
JOSEPH A. MOONEY,

ALTON, March 1, 1893.

We, the undersigned, having examined the foregoing account, find it correctly cast and properly vouched.

CHARLES D. MARSTON,	} Auditors.
DAVID H. MORRISON,

SELECTMEN'S REPORT.

The foregoing report contains a synopsis of our financial transactions the past official year, which is respectfully submitted to the inhabitants of Alton. The town voted to raise the sum of $2000 to repairs roads and bridges the past year, but owing to the heavy rains during the season, which caused many washouts, we were obliged to expend $650 in addition to that raised by the town. The Italian murder case cost $300 ; roller, $85 ; the new iron bridge at the bay, $400 ; paid on bills of 1891 not reported, $250 ; bills for breaking roads, for 1891-92, $469.22. The town officers' bills are larger than usual, owing to the increased number, by statute ; many other extra bills, as will be seen by the report, have made our expenses unusually large.

ALTON, March 1, 1893.

AMOS L. ROLLINS,	} Selectmen
ELLSWORTH H. ROLLINS,		of
JOSEPH A. MOONEY,		Alton.

The liberal appropriations annually made for the support of our schools and the attention paid to them on the part of our citizens, attest an interest in the cause and means of education among us, which furnishes at once a grateful indication of the character of the past, and a good omen for that of the future. An excellent corps of instructors filled the position of teachers in the public schools of the town during the last year, and with few exceptions made a splendid success. The coöperation of parents has much to do with the success of teachers, and we would urge upon them the necessity of visiting the school in which their children are instructed several times during each term, for no teacher, no matter how competent she may be, should be left alone to manage her school, but should have the cordial assistance of every parent, by enjoining upon their children strict obedience to their teacher, diligence and attention to their studies and a ready and cheerful observance of the rules of the school room. There have been less changes than usual among our teachers, except in the grammar school where there has been employed three different teachers, a change that the committee very much regretted, but were quite unable to avoid. Mrs. Varney resigned in the fall as teacher of the primary department, and Miss Carrie E. Morse was elected to fill the vacancy. Misses Morse, Paige and Brown, who taught the Mountain, McDuffee and West Alton schools in the spring, were succeeded respectively by Misses French, Wood and Varney. The most of the other schools have had the same teachers as last year.

It has been our earnest endeavor in discharging the duties of our office to secure to the boys and girls of our town such practical instruction and the study of such branches as would best fit them for the ordinary affairs of common life. When we take into consideration the fact that a majority of our scholars do not remain in school beyond the age of sixteen, and must receive what education they are to get in school in that short time, it is very important that they should be taught to read and spell correctly, to have a good practical knowledge of arithmetic and be able to perform such problems as occur in ordinary business; to write with a legible hand, to use language correctly, with a knowledge of geography and history of our own country. These are the principal things, in order to fit them to be intelligent citizens, capable of taking care of themselves.

The average attendance in the schools was much better than last year, as shown on the teachers' registers. We would respectfully suggest to those scholars belonging to the grammar school, that they see to it that the efficiency of the school is in no way impaired by their being needlessly tardy or absent. The registers show a list of eighty-seven different names of scholars who have not been absent or tardy a half day of a term. Two hundred and ninety-nine visits were made by parents and citizens during the year.

Columbus day, October 21, 1892, was observed by all the schools in town. In the forenoon, each school had suitable exercises in its own school room. In the afternoon, the outside schools joined the village schools in a parade through the principal streets, after which they all assembled in the Congregational church where the exercises of the day were held, which consisted of declamations by members of the different schools, singing, and short addresses by citizens.

At a special school meeting held in March last, it was voted to consolidate the schools by moving several of the school houses, and also to build a new school house at the Bay. William H. Berry, Isaac G. Felker and Alvah B. Flanders were elected as a moving and building committee. These gentlemen early in the spring attended to their duties and moved four houses. On all of these buildings more or less repairs had to be made. Three of them, the Mountain, Lang's Corner and South Alton school houses, have been furnished with modern desks and seats and there are now but two houses which are used that have the old-fashioned wooden benches. The new school house at the Bay was not completed until November, but in season to keep the winter term in. It is a fine building, commodious and pleasant, furnished with the best modern seats and is a credit to the building committee, and a house that the citizens of Alton Bay may well feel proud of. Through the efforts of Mr. Felker there was money enough raised by subscription to buy a bell and a clock. There have been ten schools that have had each twenty-six weeks of school the past year. The school house at East Alton will have to be repaired the coming year and also several houses ought to be painted, and sufficient appropriations for repairing and painting the same should be made at the annual meeting.

Respectfully submitted,

OLIVER J. M. GILMAN,	}	School Board
